insurances.

THE HONGKONG FIRE INSURANCE COMPANY, LIMITED.

CAPITAL 2,000,000 DOLLARS, in 2,000 Shares of 1,000 Dollars each.

Consulting Committee: GEORGE F. HEARD, ESQ. WM. KAYE, ESQ. R. ROWETT, Enq. S. D. SASSOON, ESQ. F. Buxey, Esq. General Managers, -- Messis Jardine, MATHESON & Co.

Head Office, No. 39, Queen's Road.

HE HONGKONG FIRE INSURANCE COM-PANY, which expires by effluxion of time in a few months, having proved highly successful undertaking, it has been determined by a large number of its shareholders to form a permanent Company under the same management and with ncreased Capital. It is proposed to register the Company under the Limited Liability Ordinance, and the amount of the Capital having been fixed at Two Millions of Dollars, it is considered that Insurers will be amply secure thereby, while at the same time each shareholder will know the extent of his individual liability. The capital proposed to be called up amounts to a large sum, and provision will be made for the creation of an ample Reserve Fund, which will, it is expected, in a very short time accumulate to an amount practically to give the fullest security both to Insurers and Insured, irrespective of the unpaid Capital. It is intended to auticipate the termina tion of the Old Company, by dissolving it from and after the 31st December next, and measures are being taken for that purpose. In anticipating a successful career for the New Company, it is only necessary to present to the public the results of the Ol Company since its establishment in May

1866, as exhibited by the following figures: The total premiums collected from the 11th May 1866 to the present time, a period of only two years and five months, amount to$304,727.72 The losses which have been paid within the same period have amounted to.....$130,081.22 and include the large sum of $85,270 lost by the Fire at Hongkong in Nov. 1867. The amount now at the Credit of the Working Account, after paying all Expenses and Re-insurances to date,

These figures fully warrant the most sanguine expectations of success, and it is but reasonable to expect that, strengthened with larger Capital, the present undertaking cannot fail to prove at least as successful as the former one. The Old Company, when it entered the field, had to create a Order business for itself, but the New one, in taking over the outstanding risks and connections of the Old Company, will at once receive a very large amount of premium, and enter on a profitable and organised business. Moreover, there is no doubt that the risk of Fire in Hongkong has been greatly diminished by the Building Regula tions now in force, and by the establishment of a Fire Brigade

. The following are the main features of the New Company:—

1. A first Call of $100, to be paid upon each share on allotment, and a further Call of $100 to be paid in Six Months all further Calls to be determined upon at General Meetings of the shareholders. 2. Interest at 12 per cent per annum to be in the first instance allowed on the paid up Capital, such Interest to be payable half-yearly, on 30th June, and 30th December. The profits after deducting the said Interest to be applied thus :- 20 per cent, pro rata, amongst such of the shareholders as shall have contributed or influenced business to the Company, and the remainder in forming a Reserve Fund

When such Reserve Fund shall have been accumulated, the payment of Iuterest to cease, and the profits to be applied thus:--20 per cent to be distributed as already mentioned amongst the shareholders who shall have contributed business to the Company; 30 per cent. to the Gloves augmentation of the Reserve Fund until it shall reach $1,000,000, at which figure it is to be permanently maintained; and the remaining 50 per cent. to be distributed by way of dividend amongst the | Shawls shareholders generally. 4: No shareholder to hold more than 250. 5. The Company to be managed by General Managers, with the assistance of a Con-

Buiting Committee, ja2 6. The Funds of the Company to be deposited in tanks or in Government Securi- Clothe ties approved of by the Committee, The Deed of Association may be inspected at the Office of the General Managers, or at the Office of Mr HENRY C. CALDWELL, the Solicitor of the Company.

Gongkong, December 15, 1868, CHINA TRADER'S INSURANCE COMPANY, LIMITED. HE General Dividend of Dollars Three Gundred and Fifty ($350) per sharp will be payable at the office of the Company, where Shareholders are requested to apply for Warrants, on and after the 15th AUGUSTINE HERD & Co. General Agents.

THE "TREATY PORTS OF CHINA & JAPAN," AND "NOTES AND QUERIES ON CHINA AND JAPAN.'

EXTRACTS FROM REVIEWS.

(From the "Straits Times," July 27, 1868. Some time ago we had occasion to remark The Charges for Lodging will betvery upon the progress that Literature as repremaking in the East, and our attention has again been called to the subject by the re ceipt of a Hongkong publication which deserves some notice and which we have much pleasure in introducing to the knowledge of our readers. We allude to Notes tf and Queries on thing and Japan, published monthly by Mr Saint, the proprietor of the China Mail newspaper. This publication is well printed on good paper, and in size and shape is very like its well-known name-D ST OK for the Season, received per laske or prototype at home, and is equally a mine containing very curious and usefu information regarding the language, literature, history, manners and customs of the L Chinese and in a less degree of the Japanese. It says a good deal for the extent and stability of the footing of Europeans in

(From the "Friend of India," June 4, 1868.) We acknowledge with thanks the receipt of the numbers for the current year of "Notes and Queries," a most deserving Anglo-Chinese monthly, edited by Mr N Brussels Carpets, Velvet Pile Carpets | B. Dennys, whose "Treaty Ports of China and Rugs, All Wool Damasks, Lace Curland Japan" are so well known. From the names attached to the "Notes" we can se mask Table Cloths in all sizes. Table Nap- | that the contributors include some of the best Chinese scholars in the East. Its interest is not confined to China, and it will be of valuable assistance to all scholars, who have directed their attention towards the subject of Buddhism and its literature, and generally to all who are interested in oriental antiquities. It deserves to be better

This really useful volume ["Treaty Ports of China and Japan"] is intended as a guide for travellers and residents in China and Japan, and as a book of reference for mercantile men generally. It contains au account, historical and political, of all the open ports of these countries, together with Peking, Yedo, Hongkong, and Macao. has been carefully compiled and edited by Mr N. B. Dennys; and the elaborate maps and plans, with which the work abounds. considerably enhance its value. * * *

We have thus given in outline some of the more prominent portions of the chapter devoted to Canton, as a specimen of the whole volume. Other chapters treating of Macao, Formosa, Ningpo, Shanghae, and the remainder of the treaty ports, we can only enumerate. The pages describing Peking, the capital, are so interesting, and contain so much that is new to European readers respecting its history, public buildings, and general characteristics, that we would fain transfer them to our columns A complete and intelligible plan of the lmperial City and neighbourhood, gives us an accurate notion of the relative position of its divisions, streets, and places.

In the introductory chapter to the notices of the Treaty Ports of Japan will be found as uccinct history of that Empire, together with remarks on its government, geography; and limits, which will be found particularly interesting as throwing a considerable light on a part of the world so long entirely, and still comparatively, unknown to Europeans.

The descriptions of Nagasaki, Yedo, Yokohania, and the other Treaty Ports of Japan, are as elaborate and entertaining as those of the Chinese ports. A copious in dex and a useful appendix o-ntaining many hints and much appropriate advice to travellers and others, is also included in the volume. The entire work affords a vast amount of information; pleasantly written. and we doubt not will be perused with interest by many who will never visit the Eastern seas.

laby, has been allowed to re-enter the human form and to enjoy a sphere of increased activity in the person of Pastor Maurach of Oberpahlen, near Dorpat in Livonia. This worthy though Hyperborean divine, whom we cannot help picturing to ourselves as somewhat slatternly about his boots and trowsers (if it is the fashion in Livonia to wear those articles of dress) and less particular than he ought to be with the brush and comb -we wonder whether there is an inkyfingered Caddy Maurach 1-with that universality of minute and accurate information about "the heathen" which especially distinguishes the friends of Borioboola Gha, has made known to Europe a fact in connection with the progress of civilization and Christianity in China that the local press—ourselves included-should long ago, it would seem, have published to the world. The Chinese, it appears, are stricken with an insatiable craving-not for opium butfor defaced postage-stamps, with which they ornament their lamps, umbrellas, the very walls of their rooms, and buy them by the million at the rate of one dollar per hundred. Any gentleman with one million postage-stamps collected from his recent correspondence can readily obtain the neat sum of $10,000 for the lot. But gentlemen are not expected to find in this commodity, eagerly sought for though it be, a compensation for losses in piecegoods or for flatness in the silk market; they are implored to devote their collections "to a philanthropical purpose," and to assist the Rhenish Missionary Society with the proceeds derived from the sale of their stamps, in assertions of Pastor Maurach, far be it from us to deny that the Chinese adorn their lamps and umbrellas, nay, their pigtails and their chopsticks, with Hamburg and Bavarian postage-stamps: more things exist in their philosophy, we know, than most men dream of; but the remark may be permitted that we, at least, are not yet eye-witnesses of this: custom. Not only is it unknown in Hongkong, but our most sedulous inquiries have failed in discovering any person who has ever heard of such a practice. The Rhenish Society have their headquarters in this Colony, yet no mortal resident has been publicly implored, as by Pastor Maurach, to surrender his stamps for the benefit of uneducated infants. What is to be (Taken at Messes Falconer & Co.'s Premises, thought on this subject? We confess to a feeling of boundless curiosity. Is the story really true, or is Pastor Maurach amyth—an unmitigated humbug—or s victim to some fantastic missionary's mystification? With such an appeal to the public before us as that we extract from the London and China Express, it is a duty to the whole reading world, to . 30.490 say nothing of the supporters pure and , 30,402 simple of Borioboola Gha, to slicit an

WITH the chimes of midnight the current veer fades away into the past and is henceforth historical. It will scarcely be deemed an unimportant one in the record of foreign intercourse with China, while it has witnessed the termination of successful revolution in Japan. As regards these countries and the much less important but socially interesting events which have, during its course, transpired in this Colony, we purpose, in accordance with an old custom, to shortly furnish a record to which residents may in future years refer. But whoever shall undertake this work with reference to the universal history of the past year will have no light task. The successful termination of the Abyssinian Expedition, the Revolution in Spain, the election of a new President in the United States, and the defeat of the Impeachment bill against Andrew Johnson; the resignation of Mr. Disraeli and his ministry, the Fenian troubles. and the extension of the Franchise at ted Viscountess Beauconseil. rica and other countries: reform in our own telegraphic system; attempts upon the lives of European sovereigns; improvements and discoveries in the art and material of war: fearful earthquakes scarce equalled in the annals of history. with volcanic eruptions which recall the horrors pictured by old writers: the advances of Russia in Central Asia: new frontier war in India-these events, taken at random as memory recalls them in casting one's eye over the map, and which form scarce a fractional part of those which history will record upon her pages, afford a field for record and comment beyond the scope of journalistic columns. It has indeed been a year of changes, and the depression in mercantile circles has not tended to make commercial men regard it as one of good

THE weather for the last few days has taken people rather by surprise, especially those who, preferring the milder atmosphere of a week since, were flattering themselves that Winter had forgotten to call upon us, with his doubled-up gait, his pinched expression, his blue nose, and his very cold baths. Celestial meteorologists are said to have been no less taken aback by the sud den changes: and although it is difficult to see that Chinese should be better informed or more weather-wise in this respect than the foreign residents, their opinions will probably not be disputed at the present time. The graduated scale of the colweather's advent has not been marked by many steps—the cold season having On the day after in time for 1868. Christmas and on Christmas Day. register of the temperature showed thermometer to be over 70; two days afterwards it hovered over or under 60 and vesterday the final jump was made from warm weather to 40 deg. Fahrenheit 'The extremes of 70 odd and 30 odd, shown find felt within six days' time, are not amiss for the deadly, scorching, and ruinous(!) climate of Hongkong; and the thermometer appears to have settled down towards the thirties and forties, in a way which would induce one to believe that the old year fully means to retire and leave us literally "out in the cold." Yesterday appears that there must have been very cold water, if not ice, in Whampon, as the thermometer there reached the icc-forming 32°. A facetious correspondent, noting this fact, remarks that the existence of ice in Whampoa is not at all surprising, as ice also existed in Queen's Road—at 3 cents a-pound. In Canton the residents been shivering as far as 38° would allow in Hongkong teeth-chattering done at about the same figure What may be doing at the Peak no one has been bold enough to communicate; but a discount of ten per cent upon the above rates may safely be allowed The suddenness of the change, however, intensified the effect, and there is no doub that its bracing effect upon residents will

> NEGRO HUSBANDS. Another patriarch: whom I never saw and whose name I have forgotten, came to my knowledge in the following manner:-A sturdy, middle aged negro, called Cæsar, entered my office and inquired if he could not have his wife and children. How far this apprehension is just, and what are the real prospect of republicanism. are wide questions which we cannot now discuss; but whatever may be the truth respecting them, it appears to us that many of the conditions which are suitable to the estabishment of republes concur in the case of Spain. In the first place, there is no country of the same extent in all Europe in which the local spirit is so strong, or in which it animates districts of such respect able size and antiquity. The Basque provinces, Catalonia, Aragon, Castile, Anda lusia, want very little encouragement to organize themselves into cantons or provinces as distinct as Berne, Lucerne, Zurich, and the Grisons, and yet is much connected together as New York Pennyslvania, and Maasachusetts. The local spirit, indeed. is so powerful that in the Carlist, revolt maintain the democrate privileges which they had possessed from remote antiquity. The Spaniards are all Catholics, whatever hey may think of the priests and of toleraton. This fact would supply a most poferful bond union between the various movinces if they should determine to constitute themselves into a republic, more or less resembling Switzerland or the United States. The ony real dangers to which Switzerland has been exposed in this generation are those which have arisen out of religious divisions. The difference between Catholic and Protestant was the soul of the troubles of the Sonderbund, and is closely connected with the intrigues which from line to time break out into downright disorder and tumult in Geneva between the Protestant Conservatives and the Catholo Democrats.

WORKING-MEN CANDIDATES

(Pall Mall Budget.) The newspapers publish a short but remarkable document in reference to the Chelsea election in these words:—" Having regard to all the circumstances of this case: we are of opinion that it is desirable for the Liberal cause that Mr Odger should retire from his candidature in favor of Sir Henry Hoare.—(Signed) Thomas Hughes, J. Stansfeld: Pitt Taylor." This decision will, no doubt, be read with great regret by many persons for whose opinion we have the deepest respect, and especially by McMill, who f we remember rightly, informed Mr Odger that there was no one in whose election he felt so much interest. We have no wish to add anything to the observations which we the great object of the Basques, was to made some weeks since and were obliged by hostile criticism to vindicate, upon the perional claims of Mr Odger to a seat in Parimment. We have no reason to doubt that he will honourably accept and act upon the award of the arbitrators to whom the question of his or Sir Henry Hoare's retirement was referred, and the mortification will, no doubt, be a sharp one to him, as well as to many of those who earnestly wish to see certain number of working men in Parliament. We propose, without reference to Mr Odger personally, to say a few words on the general subject which his case suggests. In the first place, it is perfectly clear that whatever may be the prepossessions, the hopes or fears, of particular persons, the uation at large does not mean to allow the Reform Bill to change its habits in any undamental or revolutionary manner. The very same men in most instauces, the same sort of men in almost every instance, as composed the last Parliament and its pre ecessors will compose the next Parliament and its successors. They will be divided nion. The new blood which is being prepared to be poured into the old veins is blood of the old character. The new faces to be seen in the House of Commons next spring will belong as of old to rich people who are locally eminent and want a sent i Farliament, to rising lawyers who wish get to the high places of their profession, t young men who are in a position which enables them to make a profession of politics in a word, to members of the very same classes which have peopled the House no only since 1832, but since a much earlier date. Appearances which cannot well be deceptive at so late a period of the canvass. indicate that there will be hardly single working man elected to the nev Parliament or at all events that their number will be exceedingly small. case of Chelsea is a very strong one. Odger had much in his favour, and one would have supposed that the borough for which he was a candidate would include large proportion of working-men voters, es pecially as lie chose it when he might have been brought forward for other metropolitan constituencies; yet three referees, who her visitor naturally asked her if the pic. criminals at Tong-Keon under military text, "Thou art weighed in the balance ration, the maintenance of agarmy enorm. would probably be inclined to sympathize thre was a family portrait, and was told that it represented her deceased daughter.

This state of things is certainly remarkable. This state of things is certainly remarkable. We do not at all mean to say that a workthis, or anything like it, will be true of ing man might not have qualities which ought to seat him in the House of Commons, just as a man who happened to have an odd name might have such qualities: but it would, we think, be as unwise to olect a few working men as specimens of their class as to elect a man who had a very odd name as a specimen of the class of men who have very odd names. Domestic servants are a numerous and respectable think of electing a footman just to see how he would look in the House of Commons. and by way of recognizing the rights of footmen to a sort of conventional equality which after all is not real equality. When examined to the bottom, the anxiety to see a few workmen write M.P. after their names will, we think, be found to be connected with that radial misconception of the House of Commons which leads ninorities. The mistake of those who take this view is that they forget that the true and primary function of the House is government. It debates, it is true, but it depates in order to command, not in order to diffuse information. People are sent to Parliament to vote and not to talk, except with an eye to voting. Hence the question to be decided at an election is. Who is to govern us, and on what principles? Those who think that workmen ought to govern ought to wish to see a majority of workmen on the benches of the House, for the House is a collection of rulers. not a museum of

Whilst we attach very little importance one way or the other to the presence of a small number of workmen in the House of Commons, and whilst we think that for a variety of obvious reasons it will be found pest as a general rule to elect the sort of members who are at present in the way of being elected, we ought to add two additional remarks to prevent misconception. In the first place we do not underrate in any degree the importance of the change produced by the Reform Bill. It has given yast power to the workmen, and no doubt they will use it, but they will use it at the nolls and not in the House itself. We have no doubt that the fact that a vast number of working men have votes will make itself felt forcibly enough in the next Parliament, be the members who they may; and this is simply the natural result of the change which has been made, which was clearly nocessary, and which therefore, it is useless to discuss. In the next place we fully recognize the fact that a working man might make a very good member of Parliament, though we should expect that if he did he would soon cease to be a working man. Mr Johnson is 10 longer a journeyman tailor, and Mr Lincoln laid aside his rail-splitting some time before he was elected President. The least reflection will show that it would be as difficult for a real working man who had to do hard bodily labour from six to six. say as a mason, to be a useful member of Parliament as for a married woman with a nursery full of small children to sit there. Pay him a salary and he ceases to be a real working man; he then becomes a professional politician, which is quite a different department of industry.

DEAN Ramsay, in his "Pulpit Table Talk," relates a story of Robert Hall. One of the members of his floor, a presumpturits and pompous man, took Hall to tank for not preaching more frequently or more fully censor, said : "Sir, I see you are predesmously great, and would be found by expertined to be an ass, and what is more, I see riment to be so if they would only rely that you determined to make your calling upon if instead of clinging to securities and election sure,"
